CARBON NEUTRAL CAMPUS AWARD

Thrissur: Jyothi Engineering College has been awarded the Net Zero Carbon Award. The recognition is part of a study conducted on the campus with environmental protection, climate change mitigation and carbon emissions in mind. The recognition is part of various exemplary activities such as a detailed survey of the college by NSS volunteers under the authority of local government authorities, counting of various types of trees planted on the campus, waste classification, waste treatment methods, solar power generation, and rainwater harvesting. Jyothi is the only institution in Thrissur district to be recognized among the 8 institutions selected at the state level. During the state-level announcement of the successful completion of the popular project to plant one crore saplings across the state from June 5 to October 31, Jyothi Engineering College, which has achieved the status of a carbon-free campus, received the recognition from Minister K. Rajan at a ceremony held at the Thrissur Town Hall. College Principal Dr. P. Sojanlal, Academic Director Fr. Dr. Jose Kannampuzha, Project Manager Fr. Ajeesh Babu Perinchery, Project Engineer Colonel Jacob, NSS Program Officer Sibin Johny, Volunteer Secretaries Amal, Muhammed Nashil, Kumari. Sreelakshmi, and Kumari Anjana received the recognition.
